0. Revision Sheet

QAP is a dynamic document which undergoes modifications due to system improvement, any production or quality process change, machinery and plant change etc. and hence requires clear documentation regarding revision particulars of the document. It aids in keeping track of various changes made by the firm regarding quality assurance procedures. Hence, status and reason for amendment/ revision must be part of QAP. Therefore, it is proposed to have a revision status sheet as Section '0' as a part of standard QAP format.
